Freedom from what? In every country the tendency is growing to regiment the people, to set up despotic controls.

"He used examples of materialism in Britain and America life to discredit democracy for the world." Civilized countries have the two party system of government, each one denouncing the other. The other is wrong. Internationally the same system prevails.

"He struggled to separate Britain from America," recognizing how strong a feeling of liberty that democracy could be.

"What is liberty?" Had Britain and America been truly democratic, had they understood, no attack could have been made against them, would not have been possible.

"The urgent need is for the people of the democracies to accept and live their own inspired liberty. They will not then need to fear the materialistic ideologies of race or class."

Quite true. In the past democracy has not existed. All the nations have been and still are accepting false ideologies.

For the ideology of democracy is bigger than any sectional power bid. It belongs to all classes and races. It belongs to all free people everywhere.

It belongs to people who are free from poverty. It belongs to people who would be made against people who would accept the teaching of Jesus, that liberty is the true way of life.

"It alone can bridge the gulf which today separates the nations. It is universal, as human nature is universal, as man has been and will be, as man changes in all human nature. It is the one idea big enough to unite all the people of all the world."

The idea of conflict is developing. Co-operation is developing. Human nature will not change. Man may be differently educated, may understand.

Unless some effective effort is made to spread understanding, the world will not unite, except that the idea is presented intelligently to the people.
